TELLS OF ROAD WORK WHICH IS YET TO BE DONE

O'Connor Stresses the Importance Cent Gas Tax

OWSLEY CHAIRMAN

J. G. Humfleet, Speaker of the Day, Says Tolerance Is the Real American Spirit

Charles O'Connor, good road builder from Asheville, N. C., made a short talk before the Kiwanis Club today in which he reviewed briefly the work that had been done for road building this way and pointed out to the club the things which he thought most important for work in the future.

This whole Route A scheme, he declared in beginning, originated with the Middlesboro Kiwanis Club. They set the example which one hundred per cent of the towns to their north followed. With all of the car owners in this section helping by their own gasoline tax, the matter has now grown to be every one's affair, he said. Mr. O'Connor brought out two main points. First, he showed the Kiwanis Club that if they could get the northern cities to back this road with their money—even though the trouble and expense of getting their donations mounted up—it was worth it because they, then, would outdo this way and keep their interest here.

Second, he expanded the marvels of the one cent gasoline tax which, enforced along the road, he declared would raise enough money to pay for hard surfacing the three hundred miles of dirt road still existing between Cincinnati and Miami, Fla. This would then be the best and shortest route north and would draw thousands of tourists. In closing, Mr. O'Connor put it up to the individual to see that this one cent gasoline tax is collected by urging them to drive away from any garage which does not collect it.

After his talk, President C. A. Blackburn announced several places to which he wanted Kiwanians to write, particularly to the hotels and garages in Knoxville asking them to route tourists this way. Jack Caldwell, C. O. Brown and Charles Cochran were named a committee to see that this was done.

The meeting was then turned over to John O'wale, chairman for the day. He gave the silent boost and attendance prize which was won by Dr. U. G. Brummett. Then introduced the speaker of the day, J. G. Humfleet, teacher of the Y. M. C. Bible Class of the M. E. Church, South, who chose as his subject, "The American Spirit."

The American spirit, Mr. Humfleet declared, is tolerance, despite the pressional selfish politicians would say. Speaking first of tolerance in racial sense, he deplored the recent action of Congress in restricting immigration so stringently, saying that a country was built up of foreigners and we could not afford to discriminate now. "I do not believe," he declared, "that the opinion of the people is reflected in the action of Congress."

Mr. Humfleet said America, always seemingly favored providence, had stood for religious freedom. Any organization, he continued, that seeks to deny others freedom they enjoy is an American and not a friend to America's institutions. "America must be the critical as well as the political power of the world," he said. "If we down in this we can not help the suffering world which is looking to us for help."

Announcement was made at the close of the meeting that the Honey Ice Cream Co. would treat the next Thursday.

L. GUSHER HAS 8-INCH STREAM

Derby, Ky., Well Flows 800 Gallons Daily, Report Says

Associated Press. CINCINNATI, Apr. 17.—An oil well brought in near here today a light eight-inch stream over a foot thick estimated to be daily eight hundred barrels; daily output on the short term five miles here on Galloway creek.

THAW NOT QUIZZED

Attorneys Surprised At Immunity for Client

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 17.—Harry K. Thaw, flushed and confident, testified briefly in his own behalf at his sanity trial today. His lawyers dramatically turned over to the other side for cross examination.

Thaw's counsel asked him only five questions. Seemingly the opposition attorney was surprised after the consultation was announced and had no questions to ask. Thaw's attorneys conferred and obtained a recess until afternoon. They were unprepared for the immunity granted their client.

ARRANGE SCHEDULE TO KIWANIS MEETING

Special Train Leaves St. Louis June 14 for Convention in Denver

Schedule regarding travel arrangements for the International Kiwanis convention to be held in Denver, Colorado, in June has been arranged and copies sent to members throughout the country. The itinerary includes special sight-seeing trips through the scenic west after the convention.

The train will leave St. Louis at 10 p. m. Saturday, June 14, and arrive at Denver the following Monday. The convention will be in session Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Friday, the Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak regions will be visited. On the following day ascent to the summit of Pikes Peak will be made by auto.

On the remaining days the following places will be visited: Sunday, Salt Air Beach; Monday, arrival at Yellowstone park where Kiwanians will stay until Saturday; Sunday, St. Paul and Twin Cities; Monday, Chicago.

All Kiwanians intending to make the trip are urged to make hotel or, if going on special tour, transportation reservations early. Those first applying will be given the choice of accommodations.

Foreign War Vets Meet Last Night

The second meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was held last night. Application cards were distributed and each member was requested to ask all eligible veterans to join the order.

The committee on dues reported that the nominal sum of three dollars per year for each member would be adequate to meet current expenses. Pete Calagi, a veteran of the late war, was admitted to membership.

The next meeting of the local post will be held next Wednesday. All men who have had service in wars outside the United States are requested to become members.

Three More Deaths Than Births In March

Middlesboro vital statistics for the month of March as reported to R. P. Hulsebosch, local vital statistician, indicate deaths exceeded the births by three. This is unusual as the number of births is usually double that of the deaths.

There were twenty-two deaths, five of which were from tragic causes. Of the nineteen births, ten were girls and nine boys.

EXCAVATION FOR EAST END BRIDGE STARTED

Excavations for the new East End concrete bridge which will be built at the expense of the state are now in progress. The contractors hope to have the work completed by the time East Cumberland avenue is open all the way for traffic.

The bridge will be twenty-four feet in length and extend the full width of the street at that point. This will be ten feet longer than the present wooden bridge and will give more space underneath to allow the water to escape when the stream is swollen. A part of the old bridge is still in place and when it is removed a temporary structure will be built over the place for the use of vehicles.

LANGLEY DECLINES TO DISCUSS CASE

Congressman Aroused for Trial and Vindication in Kentucky, Attorney Says

By Associated Press. LEXINGTON, Apr. 17.—Congressman John W. Langley declined to comment here today on charges in connection with his indictment on charge of alleged illegal removal of whiskey from a distillery near Lawrenceburg. Judge Price, Langley's counsel, said Langley sought early trial and was anxious to get vindication by a Kentucky jury and Kentucky judge of these "infamous charges."

It was also said he had not asked change of venue to Catlettsburg or any other city in eastern Kentucky district.

ST. PAUL BANDITS GET $50,000 LOOT

Hold Up Mail Clerks at Point of Guns and Escape with Five Pouches

Associated Press. ST. PAUL, April 17.—Fifty thousand dollars in currency was included in the loot of three bandits who held up two postal employees in south St. Paul today. They escaped with five pouches of registered mail. The robbery occurred at the Chicago, Great Western station just after the pouches were unloaded from the train. As the pouches were being loaded on the truck the bandits appeared in a large automobile. Two springs to the platform with drawn revolvers, forcing two postal employees to surrender the mailbag.

LOCAL NINE LOSES TO EWING HIGH

First Game of Season Brings Defeat to M. H. S. by Small Score, 8 to 5

The high school baseball team was defeated by Ewing high school yesterday afternoon, 8 to 5. It was quite through lack of experience that the high school boys lost. The Ewing team has played several games already this year and is in mid-season form.

Burch pitched the first six innings for the high school, and allowed very few hits. Lyons pitched the last three innings and allowed only one hit. Several of Ewing's runs were the results of errors. The outstanding features of the game were a homerun by Harris of Ewing and a three base hit made by Callison of the local team.

The high school lineup was: Evans, first base; Griffith, second base; Sewell, shortstop; Lawson, third base; Jacobs, left field; Lambert, center field; Callison, right field; Burch and Lyons, pitchers; Van Belser, catcher. Harry Smith and Walter Yeager were the umpires.

Bristol Man, Well Known Here, Dies

J. L. Crumley of Bristol, Tenn., died at his home there at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after an illness of several months. Burial will be Sunday. Mr. Crumley is well-known here, having visited several times at the home of his wife's sister, Mrs. J. W. Carr on Queensbury Heights.

Mr. Crumley was head of the J. L. Crumley Wholesale Grocery Co. of Bristol and he was a very prominent citizen of that place. He was 78 years old.

Girl Scout Worker Is Organizing Pineville

Mrs. H. H. Saunders and Miss Lucetta Garfield of Pine Mountain returned Monday night from Knoxville where they attended the mountain workers' conference. Miss Garfield then went on to Pineville where she is organizing Girl Scouts this week. She spoke to the Pineville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night on education in the mountains, bringing the subject up to Scouting. She is finding a great deal of interest in the work there.

ENTHUSIASTIC TRIP OVER THE NEW ROUTE

Delegation of Inspectors Proud of Accomplishments

ROAD GOOD SHAPE

Excellent Program at Harboursville at Noon, Again at Corbin the Night

One of the most enthusiastic affairs, from beginning to end, that they have ever attempted, was the report of the Middlesboro men who took part in the road opening tour to Corbin yesterday. A number from here went to Harboursville and six went on to Corbin, returning after the dinner there last night.

They report the road in good condition in dry weather and quite passable in wet weather. They spoke particularly, however, of the enthusiasm of the Cincinnati, Lexington and other city representatives who took part in the tour yesterday.

Joined by a number of Kiwanians at Pineville, the delegation from here motored on to Harboursville where they had a splendid meeting at noon. Jim Jarvis, president of the Kiwanis club there, was chairman of the meeting. Dr. A. T. Franklin, president of Union college, delivered the address of welcome. He was followed by Monte J. Goble, vice president of the Fifth Third National bank of Cincinnati, the man who has been one of the biggest factors in financing the road. J. Stacey Hill, owner of the Gibson hotel of Cincinnati spoke. After him, in succession, came H. D. Marvell, manager of Kenilworth Inn, Asheville; J. C. Kirtrell, secretary of the Lexington Board of Commerce; Senator White L. Moss of Pineville; T. R. Hill of Middlesboro; F. O. Clarke, president of Berea college; C. L. Robinson of the Business Man's club, Cincinnati; A. H. Perry of Richmond, N. C.; Buckner of Asheville; Mrs. N. Buckner, Charles O'Connor of Asheville, Eugene Stuntz, secretary of the Louisville Automobile club.

From Harboursville the delegation went on to Corbin over the much-talked of detour road. Those from Middlesboro who made this trip were C. A. Blackburn, E. G. Shaefer, A. P. Liebig, Jack Innman, W. D. Motch and C. O. Brown.

At Corbin a wonderful banquet was given the delegation. The principal event here was an address by Captain Gilbert, father of the Dixie highway movement. Major John A. Gilliam made the address of welcome. Several excellent musical selections were enjoyed also.

BEAUTY CONTEST AGAIN ALMOST BRINGS TRAGEDY

What might have been a tragedy was turned into a rather humorous affair when Willis Lamb shot and slightly wounded Will Whitmore at the former's home near the old Bell Line yesterday afternoon. Jealousy is said to have been the cause.

According to reports, Whitmore was at the home of Lamb. Mrs. Lamb asked the "best-looking man" to get a sack of flour. No doubt thinking that he filled the description, Whitmore started on the errand. Suddenly becoming more resentful than his name would seem to imply, Lamb brought forth his old shotgun and fired on the retreating Whitmore from the window.

The latter perceptibly increased his speed and did not stop until he found a physician who picked out a few shot which had penetrated his skin. The seriousness of the act dawned upon Lamb and he decided to become a hunted creature. Hastily collecting his most prized possessions which consisted of his trusty shot-gun, a poodle dog and some bedding, he fled from the spot. When last seen he was seeking the shelter of friendly trees in cemetery hollow. Evidently he intends to camp there until it is considered safe to return home.

Baby Son Dies

William Reynolds, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds, died at his home at Middlesboro yesterday. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

WITNESS DENIES WHEELER CHARGE

Says Senator Never Sought to Gain Favor of Interior Department

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—Testimony directly denying the charge pending against Senator Wheeler in Montana was heard today at the outset of hearings on the subject before the special Senate investigating committee. Gordon Campbell, Montana geologist, indicted with the Senator, testified Wheeler never appeared in his behalf before the Interior Department but did represent Campbell interests in Montana state courts for a fee of $1,000 dollars annually.

WILL ENTERTAIN G. O. P. VISITORS

Cleveland Makes Extensive Plans for Pleasure of Convention Guests

By Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Apr. 17.—Cleveland people intend to offer the Republican national convention, to open here June 10, a program of entertainments such as no such convention has previously enjoyed. Delegates will not be left to seek their own diversion at the end of an arduous day of caucuses and reports. Alva Bradley, chairman of the local entertainment committee, announced the following program as tentatively agreed upon by his committee:

Sunday, June 8.—Automobile ride through the parks. Cleveland, because of its shade-trees and shrubbery has been called the "Forest City," has twenty-three and a half miles of boulevards, and 26 public parks covering 2,420 acres. Band concert in one of the parks.

Monday, June 9.—Afternoon—Boat ride on one of the largest steamers of the Great Lakes. Cleveland has a 11-mile lake front.

Tuesday, June 10.—Golf tournament. Midnight show at one of the theatres. The foyer of the theatre proposed contains what is said to be the largest rug in the world, 38 by 85 feet, and paintings by Gougeon, Carot and others, including a painting by Josef Israels valued at $30,000.

Wednesday, June 11.—It is proposed that fruit be sent to each male delegate and flowers to each woman delegate.

Thursday, June 12.—Evening—car ride to Euclid beach.

Friday, June 13.—Tour of industrial plants, probably including an electrical research station covering more than 75 acres, with exhibit rooms containing the oldest and newest, the largest and smallest, lamps in the world. Cleveland manufacturers are varied and extensive, including some 160 iron and steel mills.

Saturday, June 14.—Baseball game between Boston and Cleveland Americans.

An entertainment and smoker for newspapermen also is contemplated.

Mart Head Killed At Davisburg Mines

Mart Head, old-time Bell county citizen and well-known in this vicinity, was killed this morning at Davisburg mines where he was employed as a car trimmer. He will be buried there. Mr. Head, who was about 65 years old, is survived by six children of whom five live in or near Chenoa.

Mr. Head was uncoupling some cars when he lost his balance and fell under one. The car ran over his arm and leg and he died soon after he was found by fellow workers.

Senior Play Will Be Given Friday Night

The Senior class play "Come Out of the Kitchen" will be given tomorrow evening at 8:30, at the school auditorium. This play, which is a comedy, has been very popular all over the country during the last two years and for this reason was chosen by the Seniors. It is being directed by Mrs. J. L. Humphrey. The proceeds of the play will be used for the Senior year book and for other class expenses. The admission is fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for school children. Tickets may be secured from any member of the Senior class.

Former State Prohibition Head Indicted For Alleged Liquor Plot

Paul Williams Is Charged With Conspiracy

DENIES THE STORY

Alleged $88,883 Worth of Liquor Was Withdrawn in 1921 and Sold for Beverage Purposes

Associated Press. LEXINGTON, April 17.—Paul Williams, former state prohibition director, indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury at Covington on charges in connection with an alleged liquor plot, today refused to comment on it. He reiterated he knew nothing of the case except what he had seen in the newspapers.

WHITE MOSS WON'T RUN FOR CONGRESS

State Senator Prefers to Serve Kentucky in Legislature for Present

Senator White L. Moss, in a statement to the voters of this Congressional District, has declared that he will not be a candidate for Congress from this District preferring rather to remain in the State Senate. The statement follows:

"The suggestion that has been made that I become a candidate for Congress from this District is much appreciated, and I have given the matter much thought and decided that I cannot make the race.

"It would be a great honor to represent this District in the House of Congress but I am more interested in helping to get Kentucky out of the mud, than in satisfying any personal ambition, which I may have, and I believe that I can be of more service, for the time being at least, by remaining in the State Senate.

"I thank those who have suggested that I run, and trust that my future actions will continue to merit their approval."

Business Service Bureau Is Opened

The Business Service Bureau, operated by William Wallbrecht, Jr., and Robert S. Fee, has opened an office in the building opposite the post office. It will do all kinds of advertising and accounting.

Mr. Wallbrecht will specialize in doing the bookkeeping, accounting and income tax service work. Mr. Fee will make display cards for windows, road signs, bulletins and all kinds of painted signs.

The firm hopes to enlarge its scope, add on new services and draw business from all over this section of the country. Each of the partners has had wide experience in his particular branch of the work.

Trailing Arbutus Becoming Rare

Associated Press. APPLETON, Wis., April 14.—Trail arbutus, sometimes described as the "daintiest gem of nature," faces extinction in the not far distant future because of the fact that it is too eagerly sought by thousands of wild flower enthusiasts in the early spring, according to Prof. Walter E. Rogers, of the department of botany, Lawrence college, here.

Prof. Rogers sees a remedy for saving the disappearing arbutus by the enactment of state conservation laws similar to those protecting game.

Every spring thousands of persons search the north country for trailing arbutus and the broods made upon the dainty flower, especially by those who make a practice of selling it in the larger cities, are becoming a menace, according to the botanist.

"As far as any, in its contrast of delicate pink and pearl with the dark emerald of its foliage, and exhalant fragrance thought by many to be unparalleled, this species seems destined to disappear from the state in the not far distant future," says Prof. Rogers.

"It is wild as a hawk and cannot be tamed. It already has disappeared from large sections of the country and probably it cannot now be saved except through the enactment of game laws for plants similar to those we have at present for our birds."

A Thought

A foolish son is a grief to his father and bitterness to her that bare him.— Prov. 15:20.

misfortune.—Sydney Smith.

GRADE CROSSING
PSYCHOLOGY

When Mr. A. person will spend weeks or months in bed and money in doctors, nurses, and medicine, with the hope of saving his life.

But, judging from the number of grade crossing accidents, many of them place their life in imminent peril by dashing across the track in front of a fast-moving train and even into the train rather than spend ten seconds waiting for the train to pass.

The psychology of this is not easily discernible. It is evident, however, that not grade crossing, but carelessness in effecting a crossing is the seat of trouble.

Many devices have been installed for protection of public at grade crossings but the most effective safeguard is for drivers of autos to stop, look and listen.

North Carolina enacted a law requiring autos to stop before crossing and in six months with this law in effect, in spite of increase in registered autos, grade crossing casualties on the principal railway system of that state were reduced fifty per cent, accidents being four instead of eight, injured eleven instead of twenty-two.

When it is considered that such a law is intended to safeguard the drivers of autos against injury or death at crossings, it would seem that they,
above all others, should favor its enactment.

If the "stop law" effects such a reduction in North Carolina, how much greater would be the saving of life from passage of a similar law in all states.

HISTORICAL RESEARCH
MADE BY WOMEN

Much of historical research is being contributed by the women of Kentucky, and in nearly every town in the state organized club are engaged in gathering interesting historical data or verifying legends handed down from pioneer times.

Since the women's clubs have undertaken the work much information has been gathered concerning the early history of the localities that was hitherto unknown, and the data gathered has furnished the material for many interesting papers read before the clubwomen in this respect followed the general awakening in historical subjects, and the movement to gather up every information pertaining to the early days of Kentucky and the pioneers who settled the Dark and Bloody Ground.

As a result of the activity of the clubwomen, the archives of many of the organizations are replete with historical papers treating of incidents and personages that long have been overlooked, and, but for the interest manifested by the clubwomen, would have been forgotten.

These papers give an interesting insight into pioneer times and from a valuable addition to the history of Kentucky. If these papers could be collected and printed in one or more volumes, the reading would prove of

THURSDAY
The Communion Service

Read Mt. 26:17-25. Text: 26:26-27.

And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it; and he gave it to the disciples, and said,
"Take, eat; this is my body. And he took a cup, and gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it, for this is my blood."

"Jesus knew that the effect of his death would be to bring men and God together in a relationship infinitely close and lasting. The heart of the world would break in penitence before the cross, sin would be forgiven and characters purified."

Meditation: In this last meeting with his disciples Jesus desired to bind the hearts of his intimate friends to him forever. Jesus realized that his own strength was continually renewed through communion with his Father God, and in the fellowship of this hour he gave to the disciples an opportunity to share with him his spiritual communion with the Father.

Personal Question: Do I faithfully refresh my soul through communion?

Prayer: Eternal God, may the presence of the spirit of Christ give us strength to do thy will. May we have true communion with thee. May every part of our being be fruitful in love to thee and service to our brethren. Keep the fires of our souls burning, and may our love abide, through Christ, Amen.

FRUIT OF RADICAL
DEMOCRATIC CONTROL

This Congress has been in session four months. It has not passed any major legislation. It has passed but one appropriation bill. It has not enacted any laws to relieve the agricultural situation. It has not enacted a tax reduction law. With the exception of a few private bills it has done nothing in the way of legislation.

It has not even proposed or advanced any constructive program.
On the other hand, it has blocked the program outlined by President Coolidge in his message to Congress in December.

It has sought to create political sensations rather than enact laws.

It has usurped the powers of the courts and grand juries, and made a mockery of them rather than perform its functions of a legislative body.

It has retained slander and gossip rather than discuss economic problems.

It has been a continuous performance of wind juggling and badlyhooning. On the part of the Senate it has been a rather low type of vaudeville in which Heflin, Caraway, Harrison and other yowlers held the stage and monopolized the spotlight.

The blame for all this does not rest with Republicans. They are not in control of either branch of the Congress. Test votes in both the House and the Senate clearly show that the radical-Democratic combination is in control of both branches of Congress. The fact that this combination is in control of both branches of Congress proves that it could put over a legislative program had it the desire to do so.

This should be of especial significance to the agricultural sections of the country, where the need for relief of some kind is very urgent.

Democrats and radical members of Congress elected in 1922 made their campaign upon the ground that they wanted to go to Congress to help the farmer. Those who were loudest in their promises to this effect have been the least concerned to redeem them. They have not made any effort to carry out their pledges.

The radical senators and representatives elected from agricultural sections have spent their time since coming to Congress reveling in polit-

JES' SEN-TIMENT

JUST two little shoes that are ragged and torn, are held as a memory sweet, of many black buttons these objects are shown; from age, they no longer are neat.

And yet, as I see them, I drift to the past—some twenty odd long years ago.
These shoes are an echo that always will last—that means a lot more than you know.

Back there in the days when the shoe sales were bright, a little tot walked them around, and all of the buttons were fastened on tight; though some now are missing, I've found.

These two little shoes taught a child his first step; they taught him to toddle and creep, but now in a closet for years they have slept to me in a memory sleep.

For son has grown up and he's taken more strides. And that it the reason, I guess, why sentiment says that his tiny tot shoes really started him out to sneak.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

Quizzes — Packers — Parcel Post — Europe

Ever since the insurgents (regardless of party) in Congress began investigating, the old guard-men (regardless of party) have been trying to hush it up. Failing, they've grabbed a club. In his message of the subject to the Senate, President Coolidge said in effect: "We've stood this non-sense quite a while. Now we're sick of it. Lay off."

Taken by Surprise

The oil and Daugherty inquiries took the old guard by surprise. They got beyond control. Not so Senator Couzens' demand for a treasury inquiry. The old guard saw that coming. Couzens was given a committee guaranteed not to investigate.
Couzens simply "floundered around," as he says. His committee blocked all i. movies. He wasn't a trained investigator, anyway. So he hired a specialist, Francis Heney, a ruckraker of world fame. Desperate, the old guard tried to keep Heney off the job. That didn't work. It tired and sent the inquiry. There was danger that wouldn't work either. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon threatened to resign.

Going Too Far

It was then the President Coolidge beyond the law" and it was his "duty to resist."

Got to Stop

It's as if the accused (meaning the old guard and not the president personally) got up in any grand jury room when the testimony began to scare him, and said it had got to stop.

Wheeler's Indictment

The insurgents are trying to hook
the old guard up with Senator Wheeler's indictment in Montana. It's all a bluff.

ical gossip, all of it untrue, most of it malicious, and some of it malicious and slanderous.

to amateur Hawkshaws to unravel mythical villainies which never existed except in the perverted minds of ex-convicts, cheap liars, and blackmailers, and vengeful individuals smarting under criminal indictments in federal courts.

The things done and the things left undone by this Congress must be charged directly and solely to the radical - Democratic combination, which was effected early in the session in both houses over the protest and the opposition of Republican leadership and membership.

The whole situation should forcibly remind the country of the necessity for a legislative body which has a dependable and reliable Republican majority which will cooperate with the Republican administration in carrying out a consistent program of legislation which is dictated by common sense, honest motives, and the fundamentals of political economy.

It takes a civil service examination to get a job in the packers' and stockyards' division of the Agricultural Department but nobody can pass who doesn't suit the packer.

ex-Secretary Lyman of the National Board of Farm Organizations assume the House committee on the Agricultural Department's expenditures.

Parcel Post

Postmaster General New says an attempt's being made to get parcel post rates so high it will be cheaper to send by express.

Strong Language

Discriminating against Japan in proposed new immigration rules has brought from the Japanese ambassador a warning of "grave consequences," an expression seldom used diplomatically, though probably it isn't meant quite so strongly in this case.

Germany

The Dawes commission, trying to straighten German finances, has reported. The allies wanted 35 billion dollars damages. "We can't pay anything," moaned Germany. "Yes, you can," says the commission. First, mortgage all you've got—real estate,
agriculture, industries, everything.
With the money raised thus and a 200-million-dollar loan (probably America will have to put up half of it) you can start a bank, to issue real currency. That will enable you to pay running expenses, and about 27 1-2 millions in damages the first year. In a decade you'll be up to a neutral commission to watch things; whenever it says, "Germany's hard up this year," the allies will have to wait. France may keep a few soldiers in the Ruhr, but mustn't meddle in business." Signs are this plan will be accepted.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton
NO. 25—WHAT SILVER WINGS DID

"Do hurry," the frog kept saying.

Nancy and Nick started back to Doofunny Land, taking the green frog with them.

"Do hurry," the frog kept saying,
looking back nervously toward the pond to see if the brown mink was following. "Do you think the fairy will be gone?"

"I think not," said Nancy. "She would wait to see how you liked yourself."

"Well, I don't like myself a bit and I want her to change me back the way I used to be. I wasn't afraid of anything then except the wooden waddle duck."

When they arrived there were Mister Fuzz Wuzz and Silver Wings and everybody waiting anxiously to see what had happened.

"Well, did you like it?" asked Silver Wings when she spied the little green fellow in Nick's hand.

"No, I didn't," said the frog. "An enormous beast was after me and I hear that is usually the end of all real frogs. I'd rather be made of cotton and paper and last a while longer."

"That's the way with me," squeaked the little tin mouse. "In Doofunny Land I have only the patent-leather cat and the stocking kitten to fear, and neither of them are very fast runners."

"And you know how much chance bunnies have!" declared the cotton rabbit, flapping his long, limber ears.

"The only thing is," quacked the duck, "we all miss the children.
What will we do when the Twins go home?"

Suddenly the little fairy had an idea. "I know what I'll do!" she cried. "What do you say if I fix each of you like new, and then take you to the houses of children who haven't many toys?"

Instantly there were so many voices all yelling at once that the fairy had to put her hands over her ears.

"All right! All right!" she laughed.
"But remember you won't stay new long. You'll lose ears and tails and get dingy and lose your paint and be left out in the rain and everything. It's always that way when kiddies play with toys."

"We don't care! We don't care!"
sang all the Doofunny Landers.

"Please do hurry," croaked the little frog. "You haven't changed me back yet and the mink may come any minute."

"I'll begin on you," said Silver
Wings, waving her wand.
Instantly the little shivering frog changed back into a puffy, cotton frog with tissue-paper skin. He looked very happy.
Then one by one she changed all the toys, and made them like new, except the Cut-Outs. They were so old-fashioned that they needed a new set of clothes altogether.
The Twins helped Silver Wings to take the toys to their new homes.
As for Mister Fuzz Wuzz, the pipe-cleaner man, he wanted to go back to his old home and live with his master, who made him.

Arbutus In A Flower Shop

Mayflowers on Broadway,
Pitiful things,
Droop in a faded way
Bound by cruel strings,
Offered beside them,
Gaudy array,
Orchids deride them,
Roses dismay.

Deep in a darkling
Forest of mine,
Near to where sparkling Rivulets twine,
Leaping gray pebbles,
While through brown moss
Ferns, the first rebels,
New green spears toss--

There you should meet them,
Leaf-hidden, fair;
Let them stay there,
Dreaming long hours,
While a faun sings--
Broadway Mayflowers,
Pitiful things!

Pinetown Newbyeds
Were Here Today

Miss Shirley Smith and Clifford Strunk of Pinetown, well-known in Middlesboro, were married at Pinetown Baptist church at 5:30 o'clock this morning, the Rev. L. C. Kelly officiating. Immediately after the ceremony they motored to Middlesboro and took the train for Knoxville from here. They were accompanied to Middlesboro by Mrs. Mary Smith, mother of the bride, Miss Laura Strunk, Miss Bell Mearle, George Durham and Walter Green.

Red Rose Troop Have Picnic Outing

The Red Rose Troop of Girl Scouts, of which Mrs. W. C. Stair is captain, liked to Fern Lake last night after school and had supper there, returning at 8:30 p. m. Their guests were Miss Harriet Rodgers, Miss Minnie Foley, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Miss Margaret Davis, Miss Loretta Arnold, Mrs. H. H. Saunders and F. S. Lee.

Histric Stone Up

LONDON, April 17.—Pieces of stone from the original fabric of Westminster Abbey are to be sold at a bazar in June to aid the rebuilding of Westminster hospital. The Prince of Wales hopes to open the hospital when he returns from South Africa in July.

The civil year in the British dominion (exclusive of Scotland) commenced with March 5 until 1751. On and from 1752 the civil year has commenced with Jan. 1.

FIGHTS FOR LIFE

William Haid (above) will go to his death on the gallows May 23 unless his mother (below) succeeds in proving he's too young to hang. She insists her son is just 17. The California laws set 18 as the minimum age at which the death penalty can be invoked. The youth was convicted on a charge of murdering a Yreka (Calif.) ranchman.

Pig to Pork Chop
MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 17.—Pork at 81 a pig is the price quoted by the Indians of the Florida Everglades, while three miles away the hotel keepers of Miami and Palm Beach sell it for 81 a chop. This, according to A. B. Skinner, curator of anthropology in the Milwaukee public museum.

The Armenians marked their secession from the Greek church by adopting it as their epoch. This corresponds to July 9, 552.

PERIOD FURNITURE

RENAISSANCE (Italian)

Renaissance, originating in Italy about the 15th century, was a revolt from the stiff, formal Gothic style back to the classic. The idea spread to France, England and the rest of Europe. Italian renaissance furniture was rich, elegant, highly carved, heavy and luxurious. Stamped leather and rich velvets accompanied it. Characteristic features in carving were the acanthus leaf, scroll, ribbons and flowers, with groups of fruit, grotesque human and animal forms in order to array.

MUCH INTEREST IN ORATION CONTEST

Lucy Forrester and Ruby Carter of Harlan winners—Earl Swanner of London

HARLAN, April 17.—Recent oratorical and declamation contests held in Harlan by contestants from several schools in that vicinity aroused a great deal of interest in the students and patrons as well. The orations were all splendid and showed considerable study.

Miss Lucy Forrester of Harlan high school won in the Constitutional oratorical contest. Her oration was excellent and showed intensive preparation. John Stevens, representing Sue Bennett school, was second. Dillard Turner of Pine Mountain settlement school was the other contestant.

Miss Ruby Carter, also of Harlan high school, won the Declamation Medal against Corbin high school and Sue Bennett Memorial. Miss Carter read "The Rider of the Black Horse," with marked ability. Judges were Messrs. Evans, Jones and Creech, all of Cumberland college, Williamsburg.

Earl Swanner of Sue Bennett Memorial, London, won first place in the boy's oratorical contest. This was between Sue Bennett, Corbin high and Harlan high. Mr. Swanner read "The Call." His delivery was excellent. Bernard Tallent of Corbin high won second place.

HARLAN NOTES

Mrs. Lee Ward entertained with a card party at her home on Cumberland avenue this week. A light luncheon was served.

Janie Duffield, who has been spending some time in Canada for his health, will return home Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Amerston of Georgetown, is visiting her sister, Ruth Amerston, at the Teachers' Club.

Miss Vera Stokes entertained a number of her school friends at her home. A delightful time was had by all.

Mr. Mildred Jones entertained in honor of Miss Evelyn Amerston at her home on Clover street.

H. M. Bous of Louisville was in Harlan on business this week.

Mr. Levine of Cincinnati, Ohio, was in Harlan on business recently.

Mr. Levy with the L. B. Cap Company is in Harlan this week on business.

HARROGATE NEWS

President R. O. Matthews left for Washington and New York Wednesday morning. He will address the annual meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Washington Thursday evening.

Dean T. B. Ford is attending a meeting of the State Educational Association at Nashville this week.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage April 6 of Miss Margaret McCampbell of Knoxville to Otis Howard Overton, also of Knoxville. Mr. Overton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Overton who lived at Harrogate until a few years ago. He was educated at Lincoln Memorial University and Old Dominion Military Academy. The young couple will make their home in Fountain City after May 1, the announcement reads.

Shawnee Notes

J. B. Hamilton is recovering after a long illness from the flu. Several from here went to Middlesboro Saturday to see "The Covered Wagon."

Miss Maggie Bryant spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Greer and daughter, Nellie Estep, shopped in Middlesboro Saturday.

Miss Ruby Scott gave a party Saturday evening for her little friends. Guests were: Pauline Estep, Bonnie Greer, Jesse Greer, Ruby and Pearl Scott.

Mrs. B. Jones of Parlee, Va., spent last week with her sick parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burke.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

—BY BLOSSER

IN YAKIMA

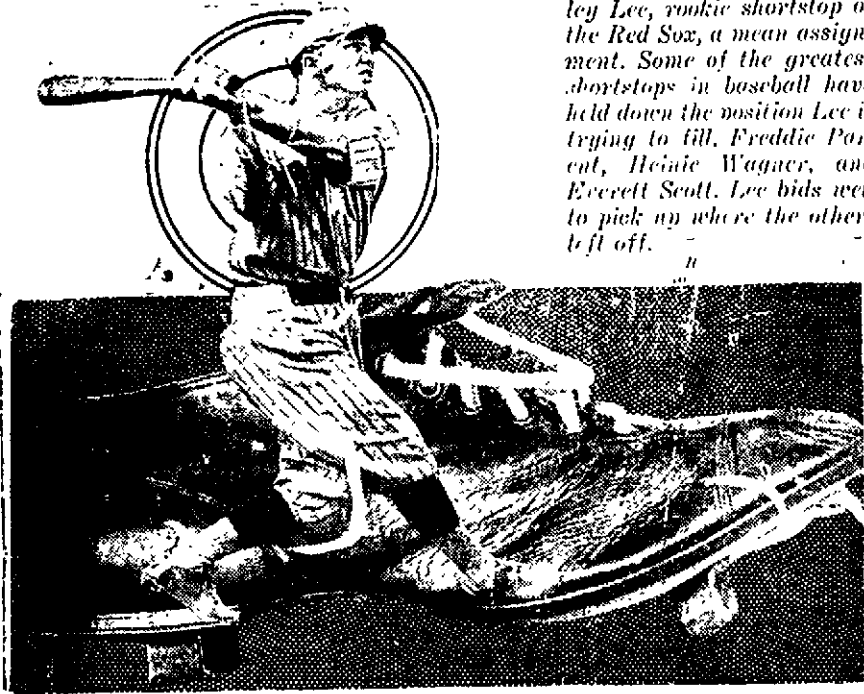

SHOPPING NEWS BROUGHT NO RETURNS WAS OPINION OF MAJORITY—LARGE STORES CONTRACT FOR MORE SPACE IN DAILIES

Six months' experience with their own Shopping News has been plenty for merchants of Yakima, Washington, whose advertising in the future will go to the two Yakima dailies—The Morning Herald and the Evening Republic.

Twenty-four advertisers contracted for space in the 8-page circular seven months ago. About half of them refused to renew on expiration on the ground that they had received no return.

The experience of the merchants of Yakima demonstrates that there is no satisfactory substitute for the daily newspaper as an advertising medium. The result has been the contracting of additional space in the two Yakima dailies.

The fates have handed Dudley Lee, rookie shortstop of the Red Sox, a mean assignment. Some of the greatest shortstops in baseball have held down the position Lee is trying to fill, Freddie Porcell, Heinie Wagner, and Everett Scott. Lee bids well to pick up where the others left off.

play their first game here at 3 o'clock tomorrow with Lincoln Memorial university. Several old players are on the home team and an interesting contest is expected.

Middleboro's line up follows: Harry Smith, P.; J. T. Kilpatrick, 2b.; Wells, ss.; M. Kiddy, 3b.; Ball, 1b.; Yeager, cf.; Winters, lf.; Woody, c.; Richmond, pitcher.

Five Minutes Walk From the College

CLAY CUNNINGHAM

MFG. COMPANY PRODUCTS

H & W Pure Mixed Paint

Costs less per job because it covers more surface, spreads easier and wears longer. It is 100% pure. Analysis label on every can. For twenty years has been the standard of quality.

E. Z. Flat Wall Finish

A flat, washable oil paint more desirable than Kalsomine, more economical than wall paper. Is the ideal finish for the modern decoration of homes, churches and public buildings.

Elastic Floor Paint

A perfect finish for floors. It stands the wear and retains its beauty. Easy to apply and dries hard over night.
